WRECK ON RAILWAY

GLENDAL & MONTROSE CONSTRUCTION TRAIN DERAILED NEAR WABASSO WAY

Through the failure of the brakes to act a Glendale & Montrose construction train, which had been working hauling gravel for the fill at Verdugo bridge, was derailed on Tuesday evening at 4:35 and the engine, electric motor and cars are lying in the ditch between Wabasso Way and Verdugo bridge. Apparently no blame can be attached to any of those connected with the running of the train. The affair was one of those accidents that may occur at any time, in spite of the utmost care.

W. J. Bohon, general manager of the line, had been out on the track all day and had made two trips in the train being anxious to see the working of the engine which had been supplied by the contractor. The engine apparently worked all right and answered obediently to its brakes. There was a plentiful supply of air and everything appearing satisfactory Mr. Bohon left and went into Los Angeles to attend to other business of the road.

About 4:30 the cars having been loaded the train started on its third trip. The cars were all loaded and the train was quite a heavy affair. The hand brakes had been set on the last three cars of the train of eight cars and the train was under control until the engine began to move. It was immediately seen that the brakes were not working but by that time the train having started it was impossible to stop it on the down-grade.

Everything that could be done to get the train under control was done by Conductor Guthrie and Engineer Craso; but as there was no air to work the brakes the train gathered momentum until it ran off the rails and fell into the ditch between Wabasso Way and Verdugo bridge. The officials of the road, W. J. Bohon and T. I. Stephens, Glendale agent, arrived on the spot very soon after the derailment and worked all evening and on into the early morning getting things in shape for the repair of the damage.

Fortunately no one was injured. The train crew jumped when they found the train beyond control and though they landed on the road somewhat suddenly owing to the train's momentum all escaped without hurt. Work is being prosecuted to repair the damage done. The line has been shifted and repaired and the construction work goes on without interruption. The verdict in the case is that the accident happened through failure of the air brakes to act.

PACKER CLUB MEETS

OFF TO THE ORIENT

ELDER DANIELS OF SEVENTH DAY ADVENTISTS SPEAKS AT GLENDAL SANITARIUM

Elder A. G. Daniels, of Washington, D. C., president of the general or world conference of the Seventh-day Adventists, visited Glendale yesterday, and spoke to a large company of nurses and employees of the Glendale Sanitarium. He told them of the rapid growth which Adventist mission work is making in the Orient, and of a tour of Eastern Asia and Australia from which he returned about a year ago. He said he traveled about 55,000 miles on twenty steamship lines, and at every place he landed, found Seventh-day Adventists to welcome him.

Elder Daniels is again on his way from the denominational headquarters at the nation's capital to the Orient. He will attend a meeting of the Asiatic division conference in Shanghai, China, April 5 to 26. He left at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon for Loma Linda, where he probably conferred with leading physicians of the Adventists on the Pacific coast regarding plans for the new Ellen G. White Memorial hospital, to be erected by the Adventists in Los Angeles as a branch of the Loma Linda College of Medical Evangelists.

From Loma Linda, Elder Daniels plans to go to Fresno, spending a day with his mother, Mrs. Mary J. Lippincott and his sister, Dr. Jessie Hare. His itinerary includes Oakland, St. Helena, Cal., Portland, Ore., Walla Walla, Wash. and Seattle, Wash. He will sail from Vancouver, B. C., on the steamer "Empress of Asia," November 2.

The conference in Shanghai will be a representative gathering of Adventist missionaries, ministers and delegates from Australia, India, the Philippines, Malaysia, Japan, Korea, Manchuria and various parts of China. In Elder Daniels' party will be several missionaries.

These will be Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Barrows; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Gillis and Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Brewer. Mr. Barrows is secretary-treasurer of the Adventist work in the Philippine Islands. Mr. Gillis is in charge of the Adventist publishing house in Shanghai. In one year this printing plant published forty million pages of Adventist literature, and the magazine in Chinese which it issues monthly has a larger circulation than all other Protestant evangelical periodicals in the native tongue combined.

Elder and Mrs. W. T. Knox will sail in this party, and Mrs. Daniels will accompany her husband. Elder Knox is treasurer of the general conference and was at one time president of the California conference. He has many friends on the Pacific coast. He was to have been in Mountain View, Cal., yesterday, on a visit to the Pacific Press Publishing association, the Adventist publishing house for the coast.

ATTORNEY EMERY AT MONROVIA

Attorney Owen C. Emery of Glendale on Tuesday evening delivered an address before the Granite Club of Monrovia, a businessmen's organization, on the question of the single tax amendment No. 5 occurring on the ballot at the next election. Mr. Emery who is a member of the executive board of the People's Anti-Single Tax league of Southern California spoke very strongly against the single tax amendment, declaring it to be the most pernicious amendment on the ballot. Mr. Emery's thorough and comprehensive argument won many converts in opposition to the amendment.

CARRANZA IN WORSE POSITION THAN EVER

DE FACTO RULER OF MEXICO LOSES HIS GRIP ON THE COUNTRY—FELIX DIAZ SEIZES MEXICO STATE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

EL PASO, Oct. 25.—Apparently Carranza's day is over. Not only does Villa hold almost the entire province of Chihuahua, but Felix Diaz, nephew of the former president, Porfirio Diaz, is in possession of the entire state of Mexico and within a few miles' march of Mexico City. Carranza has seemingly weakened. He has sent his wife to the United States. General Trevino's wife is now in Juarez and is expected to cross into this city before long. Mrs. Carranza is accompanied by the wife of General Obregon. The people interpret these movements as signs that the end of the Carranza government is at hand.

GERMANS SHELLING THE FRONT AT SOMME

BRITISH AND FRENCH EXPECT POWERFUL GERMAN OFFENSIVE IN THE DIRECTION OF BAPAUME-PERONNE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, Oct. 25.—The Germans are making great preparations for launching a powerful counter offensive against the French and British lines in the vicinity of Bapaume and Peronne. The airmen of the Allies report that immense stores of ammunition have been moved to the front and that the troops are massing for the attack. It is believed that the French victory at Verdun will have a strong effect on this movement and may delay it.

TWO DOLLAR WHEAT IS NOW IN SIGHT

COST OF WHEAT IS ADVANCING RAPIDLY AND PRICE REACHED MARK OF $1.83 THIS MORNING

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—Apparently the cost of living is not to be any less this winter. The price of wheat shot up again this morning and $1.83 is now demanded for a bushel of wheat. This is by no means the highest mark that is expected. Dealers state that from all indications wheat will reach the excessive price of $2.00 a bushel before long and the price of the loaf of bread will be increased.

FRENCH GAIN GREAT VICTORY AT VERDUN

PETAIN'S MEN RECAPTURE IN TWELVE HOURS TERRITORY IT TOOK GERMANS TWO MONTHS TO GAIN

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, Oct. 25.—Dominating the air with their incomparable flying corps the French under General Petain, rushed preparations for a grand attack on the German Crown Prince's line at Verdun. After the troops had been massed unknown to the Germans, the French artillery swept the German trenches and prepared the way for the great rush. General Petain's troops then smashed through a front of four miles, retaking Douaumont, Thionmont and Haudromont. The Germans were swept from their positions on Froide Terre heights. More than 3000 prisoners were captured and all the immense stores of ammunition and provisions the Germans had laid up for months. The Germans are now rushing reinforcements to the Crown Prince, who has lost in twelve hours ground it took two months of hard fighting to gain.

COTTON REACHES HIGH MARK OF 20 CENTS

SOUTHERN PLANTERS ARE MAKING FORTUNES OUT OF THE ADVANCING WAR PRICES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—For the first time since the civil war cotton has reached the price of 20 cents a pound. The southern planters have already amassed fortunes from the increased prices obtained for their product. The fact that the British government undertook to purchase all the cotton that normally would have gone to Germany and some neutral countries has so maintained cotton value that the advance was inevitable.

ROUMANIANS RETIRE BEFORE GERMANS

PETROGRAD ADMITS THAT LEFT WING OF FORCES IN DOBRUDJA FALLS BACK ON TZARA MURAT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PETROGRAD, Oct. 25.—Official accounts published of the recent fighting in the Dobrudja state that the Russo-Roumanian forces have abandoned their positions in Czernavoda and have fallen back a long way from the Danube. The left wing of the Russo-Roumanian army has retired to Tzara Murat, twelve miles north of the Constantza-Czernavoda railroad line. The Germans are credited with having captured the important bridge that spans the Danube at Czernavoda.

POULTRY SHOW PLANS

GLENDAL-TROPICO ASSOCIATION ARRANGES EXHIBITION DATES FOR DEC. 7, 8, 9

A well attended and enthusiastic meeting of the Poultry and Pet Stock association was held at the city hall Tuesday evening. The time was wholly given to the consideration of matters pertaining to the coming show to be held in Glendale, Dec. 7, 8, 9. There was considerable discussion on the question as to a location for holding the shows as it may be difficult to secure a building of sufficient size to accommodate the number of entries expected. It may be found necessary to erect a tent in some central point as a solution of the problem.

The entry fee was fixed at 50 cents for each single entry and $1.25 for a pen of five birds. Dogs and cats are to be excluded from the entries, fancy birds such as pheasants and cage birds to be a special feature in their stead. Rabbits and pigeons to be admitted in singles on the same basis as poultry.

A committee consisting of two members was appointed to solicit funds for special premiums. Mr. McDonald and Miss Pearl Olds were named for the work. The premium list is being made up and will be on the press by the first of the month and any information in regard to same will be cheerfully given by the manager, Dr. Royce, at 612 West Broadway, Glendale.

There will be at least eight special judges, every man an expert breeder, making the winnings at this show valuable to the fanciers.

The Glendale show is recognized as second to none redounds greatly to the credit of our fair city and reflects credit on the promoters and fanciers in the four cities, Glendale, Tropico, Burbank and Eagle Rock. The show this season bids fair to exceed the 1915 show as wonderful improvement has been made in breeding fancy fowls in this section.

ART AND TRAVEL SECTION

The Art and Travel Section of the Tuesday Afternoon club met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. M. Turk, 521 North Glendale avenue, Tropico. About twenty members were present including Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, president of the Tuesday Afternoon club. The rooms were tastefully decorated with chrysanthemums and greenery. Mrs. Turk, who has crossed the Atlantic several times showed the section a diagram of the steamship on which it was proposed to take an imaginary journey through the Mediterranean. The ladies selected their berths, saw their baggage checked, learned how much baggage to take, and what form of trunk is most convenient, what to keep in their stateroom, how to secure their place at the dining table and so on. Mrs. Turk exhibited a menu of one of the ships in which she had crossed and told about the food. She also described the Rock of Gibraltar as they were supposed to stop there for a while. The wonderful gun galleries and secret passages were spoken of and something of the history of the great British fortress was given. The party then went on to Genoa and heard about that beautiful seaport and its history. They got to a hotel and began to learn about French and Italian money and the value of purchasing power of the franc and lira. At this point make believe stopped and reality came on in the form of refreshments.

AT GLENDAL HIGH

PLANS FOR WILSON DEMONSTRATION PROGRESS—INTER-CLASS BASKETBALL STARTS TODAY

It was announced this morning that the Wilson club has secured Dan W. Simms, prominent attorney and educator, to address the school Friday. The public is invited to this rally which will start at 11:15 o'clock.

All Glendale is stirred up over the big Wilson parade to be held in Glendale, Tropico and Casa Verdugo on Friday afternoon. Wilson supporters are urged to come out in machines or on foot, and to stimulate similar action among their friends. The success of the parade depends largely upon individual work.

The Glendale Municipal band will lead the procession according to Clem Moore, grand marshal. The Goddess of Liberty, represented by Mrs. Hugh Harlan promises to be one of the features of the parade. Following Liberty will be a group of girls in white, representing Peace, for which our president has so valiantly stood. Each girl will wave a white Peace flag, in her hand.

All girls who stand for Wilson are requested to be on hand promptly for this feature.

Grammar school tots will form the Child Labor Law division. They will march through town and, then ride the rest of the distance. Miss Lorraine Mitchell is in charge of this part of the parade.

The Eight Hour Law division will be composed of men and boys in overalls. Mr. Oliver's mechanical students are requested to turn out in their jumpers to yell for this great measure.

Proving that the ladies of Glendale are loyal to the president, numbers of prominent club women have joined to enter what they declare will be the biggest hit of the parade. "Consistent Woman's Suffrage" is the wording which will lead their entry.

It might be stated here that the women are doing the biggest half of the work in this affair. The program committee which met Monday evening appointed a sub-committee consisting of Mrs. Charles Grist, Mrs. Ella W. Richardson, Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, Mrs. Frank Muhleman, Mrs. John W. Usilton and Mrs. Alexander Mitchell. This committee has already accomplished a great deal of work. It is the special request of those ladies that everyone who can do so bring an American flag.

Kenneth Beldin, chairman of the parade committee announces an important meeting this evening in the Chamber of Commerce.

Next week will be turned over to the Benson and Hughes Clubs. of Glendale High. Herbert Scheuer, president of the G. O. P. boosters declares that no Democrats in the U. S. will ever get ahead of his club. The Socialists claim to have engaged the best speaker in California for their rally. Indeed, Mr. Howe started something when he suggested these political clubs.

Mr. Ferguson, head of the school employment bureau reports considerable business during the past two weeks. In an interview today he stated that he had the names of eleven boys who are willing to do any sort of job, long or short. A number of calls have been filled, and everyone is satisfactorily. Glendale people, Mr. Ferguson says, will soon learn the dependability of this bureau and make constant use of it. Already one permanent position in a Glendale business house has been filled.

The girls are listed up for general housework, to wait tables at social functions, to care for children in the evenings and on Saturdays and almost anything girls can do.

Inter-class basketball starts this afternoon with the Freshman-Sophomore game. The teams have been practising hard and are all in fine trim for the fray. The sportsmen of Glendale who enjoy good clean athletics will find these games very interesting. A schedule of games will be published soon.

Mr. Wight states that his soldier boys will soon be in uniform.

Marion Lehman states that he is still a Socialist.

The Seniors state that anyone who forgets their Halloween dance to be held next Friday evening is out of luck.

Owing to a typographical error the subject of Mr. Moyse's address before the mothers at the Acacia street school last week was mis-stated in Saturday evening's paper. Mr. Moyse spoke on "Psychology for Parents."

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight and Thursday; warmer; westerly winds.

MODERN ARMY MANAGEMENT

Much of the glamor of war, at least the old-style glamor, has vanished with the advent of battle lines 700 miles long, quickfiring field guns, machine guns, trenches, elaborate field works and all the marvelous paraphernalia of the modern battlefield. The charging squadron is seldom seen. The hostile armies pound away at each other from hidden positions five, six and ten miles off. Flocks of aeroplanes blacken the heavens and swoop down on the enemy's positions raking them with machine guns. Monstrous Zeppelins hover overhead and drop tons of explosives on the combatants or on their reserve field ammunition.

Men on a trench line of 100 miles seldom see each other though they may come from the same town. The average soldier scarcely ever gets a glimpse of his foe except in the dash of a night charge and then his impressions of what has gone on are confused and indistinct.

Away in the rear miles off from the operations sits the man whose brain directs all this moving panorama of war. He has a quiet room in some secluded spot whence he sends every day and every hour messages by which the movements of the different sections of his army are sent forward for a gain of a few hundred yards at a time. It is for all the world like a vast game of football with its gridiron and a constantly changing map of the different losses and gains marked up from hour to hour. The special wires that lead to all the different parts of the operations are constantly clicking and the chief of staff or field marshal or who ever may be in charge of the particular operations, is in communication with every point.

Scores of military officers are moving to and fro. Here you may catch glimpses of the military attaches of the different countries sent out to watch the operations. Aides are hurrying from one department another; orderlies are standing at attention beside busy generals. War is a big business and its ramifications are innumerable. A general hands a message to a telegraph operator and 250,000 men are sent forward to attack some strong position fifty miles away. The operations never cease.

At the base of field operations there is never an idle moment. Men work like beavers. They never rest nor stay. A moment's hesitation at a critical point might be fatal. Around the chief of general staff's headquarters is to be found a little army of about 20,000 military units of every description.

If one comes from the United States he or she will find plenty of material at all the headquarters, whether French, British or Russian or Italian to flatter national vanity. American productions are everywhere. American manufacturers have found their opportunity. They have taken advantage of it. Everywhere are American automobiles of all kinds and among them the ubiquitous Ford dashing to and fro with loads of active looking aides. American tooth brushes are in the dugouts, American razors, sewing machines, typewriters, bicycles and motorcycles, while American harvesting machines are busy in the nearby fields.

While the United States has up till quite recently offered no field for American airmen the battlefields of Europe have given employment to men and machines alike. The American aeronaut is everywhere and has distinguished himself in the aerial arena. He is alert and daring and has won golden opinions from all the nations. Such are some of the aspects of a modern war headquarters.

JAPAN AND AMERICAN PLANS

There is a large class of people in Japan which professes to believe that the United States has vast plans of aggression in the Far East. This idea prevails in spite of the fact that the present United States government was on the point of giving back the Philippines and that it actually passed a resolution indicating its desire to do so. This class of Japanese thinks that the United States is entering on an imperialistic career. They profess to see indications that the United States government is stretching hands across the Pacific intent on extending not only her commercial interests but her political influence in China.

When Secretary Knox was in power he proposed the neutralization of the Manchurian railways. He also had a scheme to construct the Kinchow-Aigun railway. The Bethlehem Steel company had a project to establish a dockyard in Fukien. The United States has occupied the Hawaiian islands and the Philippines and in spite of recent talk of repudiation of the possession of those trans-Pacific holdings the Japanese anti-American party profess to believe that the United States has never had any intention of letting her Philippine possessions go.

This section of Japanese patriots points to not only very ancient action on the part of European powers in seizing and holding Chinese territory and in Russia's designs on Korea, which menaced Japan's very existence and brought on the war of 1905. They cannot differentiate between American aggression and that of Europe, and they are afraid that American enterprise, backed by American capital will ultimately drive Japanese commerce from China.

When the United States invests in Chinese railways the Japanese can see no difference between that act and the acts of the European powers who have already constructed and now hold railways in China. The European investors have the backing of their respective countries and the Japanese have every reason to believe that American railway investors will have the backing of their country. They say that American investments in Chinese railways, mines and canals, can not fail to become political affairs. In this way they ridicule the idea that American investments in China are disinterested.

There is another class in Japan even more resentful of American influence in China. They believe that America has imperialistic designs in China and that Japan should show her resentment of those plans by retaliation. They resent America's discrimination against the Japanese and her eagerness to forestall any Japanese enterprise, however insignificant and innocent, in Mexico or in South America.

Especially do the Japanese newspapers resent the constant cry of the American newspapers that Japan is preparing to invade the Pacific coast. They also keenly resent the periodical stories about Japanese colonization of Mexico and of parts of South America.

They cannot comprehend what business the United States has with their movements in other countries. Such stories as that about
Magdalena bay, for instance, makes the blood of the Japanese pa-

These and other matters are a constant source of irritation.
Some influences are purposely keeping these causes of irritation

TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB HAS ELOQUENT SPEAKER

Daniel F. Fox, D. D., pastor of the First Congregational church, Pasadena, and a lecturer of national reputation, gave a masterly address before the Glendale Tuesday Afternoon club yesterday at Masonic Hall. The hall was decorated with dahlias and ferns, and the president, Mrs. E. H. Bartlett, presented the gifted speaker of the day to a capacity house.

Displaying a wonderful memory and an exquisite command of the English language, Dr. Fox with vivid word pictures, brilliant thought and flashes of humor, carried his audience at will through a resume of historical characters and events. Taking as his subject, "The Mirror of a Mighty Era," Dr. Fox, in an address which beggars description, treated history as a bull's eye lantern throwing light on our modern life. Singling out Sir Walter Raleigh as the genius of his age and a mirror of a mighty era, Dr. Fox traced the life of this star of first magnitude in the age of Queen Elizabeth, this scientist, physician, soldier, sailor and author. Five years in France, and his life in the inner circle of the Queen's favorites, made Raleigh the leader of the thirst for freedom and the champion of the colonization of the New England states. Virginia named for the virgin queen, and Raleigh, North Carolina, named for Sir Walter, commemorate an action of supreme importance to us, insuring an English speaking people. The Anglo-Saxon by the process of elimination of other nationalities now has the world in his hand. America, the melting pot of nations, through her public school system, has created a great, glorious American internationalism which is making brotherhoods of neighborhoods.

But why is our great world neighborhood now less a brotherhood than it has been? Because the machine dominates the man. The solution of just this problem is the Anglo-Saxon task today. Sir Walter Raleigh, a great soul made perfect through suffering, passed out in 1618, but standing for his ideals, and on the foundation stones of his achievements, the Mayflower landed. They believed then in witchcraft, duelling and slavery. Some still hold the fifteenth and sixteenth century attitude of mind when they countenance John Barley Corn and the War God.

But there has been founded a republic where no fear of a king rules, a republic in which the poorest boy who splits rails, or pounds an anvil, may become president, a nation whose supreme task seems to be to make of the world neighborhood a world brotherhood.

The program closed with unison singing. During the business session, Mrs. Frank Grosvenor reported the recent Juvenile Protective Association meeting, and Mrs. H. E. Bartlett the San Fernando Valley Reciprocity day at Burbank. Mrs. Bartlett reported the action of the board by which the husbands and brothers of club members will be admitted to club programs on presentation of the member's own calling card, thus reserving the use of the formal guest cards for the invitation of prospective members of the club.

Section announcements were made as follows:

OPENS NEW PARLORS

John G. Peart has opened undertaking parlors at 592 West Broadway. He has fitted up his establishment in first class shape. The front of the commodious rooms is the office. Back of that the establishment has been divided in two by a partition. The eastern half is occupied by a large chapel which will afford accommodation to 100 people.

On the other side is the casket room where a complete stock of caskets is kept. Just at the south end of the chapel is a nicely furnished waiting room for relatives and friends when they have occasion to use such a room. In the rear of the building is the work room and mortuary room. The rear door opens out on a spacious court where there is ample room for automobiles of all kinds to draw up there.

Mr. Peart came to California from Belvidere, Ill., about two years ago after going about from place to place in search of a suitable location finally came to Glendale last July. "Glendale," said Mr. Peart, "appealed to my family and myself. We recognized at once its many advantages and are perfectly content to make this our home. My family consists of my wife, myself and three children. My wife's mother, Mrs. Honey also lives with us. At present we are located at 1417 Sycamore avenue. Before coming here I was engaged in the furniture and undertaking business in Belvidere.

"Efficiency" is my motto. I believe in making the best provision for the dead in order to provide the best protection for the living. I have always given the best service possible. I like Glendale and its people and I feel confident that it is destined to be a very prosperous and constantly increasing center."

BRAZEN POLITICIANS

Occasionally a brazen mannered politician will visit clubs and civic organizations and through the influence of a few persons gain the endorsement of those in attendance. The Evening News is not quick to give publicity to candidates who seek that manner of getting before the people. A few smiles and words of flattery and promises that may or may not be kept do not count so much with The Evening News as a straight forward business statement from a local citizen who lacks the brazen ways of the stranger. Everything else being equal The Evening News stands first, last and all the time for Glendale candidates and Glendale institutions.

PARKERET PARAGRAPHS

POLITICAL, PROHIBITIVE, PERSONAL AND PROGRESSIVE

(By Samuel Parker)

Quotation from copy furnished by the Liberty league for publication in such papers as will give space, "This prohibition has made a hunger-panged, pestilential desert of Europe, and will certainly do the same for America, if you will not recognize the fact that eternal vigilance is the price of liberty, and that life without liberty is a dreadful curse."

The letter from which this is taken bristles with threats of the bowwows, if prohibition is voted on a free people.

The "yokel" population from the mid west states, now citizens of California, will be delighted with the estimate in which they are held by the booze editor of the wet column in the Tribune-Express. "Well, they don't do that way back in 'Squedunk' is a common expression among new residents, and you will find that thousands of votes which will be cast dry on election day will be deposited by these people from Wooster, O., or Moline, Ill., or Council Bluffs, Ia., or South Bend, Ind. or Wichita, Kan. or a thousand other small towns of the middle west, who have not yet adjusted themselves to conditions here. In another paragraph of the same article, he kindly suggests a quarantine to keep these narrow-minded tourists out of the state until they broaden out for liberal citizenship. How will the east and mid-west former citizens deal with this gratuitous insult?

When Henry Ford announced his intention to support Wilson for president, he simply emphasized the privilege of an American citizen king but when he also announced that not one cent would he contribute to a campaign fund he declared a principle that should be canonized as cardinal. Great campaign funds are but corruption funds, and the use of money in elections (aside from legitimate expenses) crumble the very foundation stones of free government.

In order to show its contempt for the opinion of a great number of well thinking people the Los Angeles Times in an unusual sunburst of wisdom exclaimed "If people are to be ruled by law as to what they shall drink, why not extend prohibition to articles of food and raiment? The Times ought to know enough to know that law already exists almost universally covering the very points suggested. Scarce an article of food in use today but that the law inspects, prohibiting short weights and imperfect and unsound goods, and as to dress Paul ordered "hats on," while modern ministers, order "hats off" and even the writer of the paragraph above quoted would be arrested in Los Angeles in the shadow of the Times building if found in woman's clothing even though the people generally might regard the garb as very becoming.

"I am not my brother's keeper" yelled Cain, defiantly in the face of his Maker, who taught him differently in one lesson, until the first murderer cried out "My punishment is greater than I can bear." Since that day care for the weak by the stronger has marked the line between savage conditions and civilization. Christ taught it all the time, and Paul exclaims with emphasis: "If meat (or drink) cause my (weak) brother to stumble I will use none while the world stands." Now make way for Dr. Prosperity. I quote "It is not right that we abolish the thing that many harmlessly enjoy because a few abuse the right to use it." "The law of evolution that improves the race works with a view to wipe out the worst specimens and they that have the least control over their passions and appetites." There you have it, in at the gilded palace. Out at the barrel house. Kind evolution, to wipe out the degenerates.

Between Wet Editor Woodill who vows and declares that the state of Kansas is a desolate region given over to coyotes and bootleggers and two governors from that state who declare it to be the soberest, happiest, most intelligent and wealthiest people on earth, the former Kansans now in California have wide margin for laughing and laugh they do at the false statements of Woodill, while indorsing all said by the governors as their votes for dry will show.

All my voting life having been in favor of the enfranchisement of women and (possibly may be) by voice and pen contributed to that end now so near, I may with much of freedom record here my very great pleasure at the good behavior of the sisterhood in their public activities during the campaign so soon to close. It is a possible result that the woman vote will decide who shall be our next president.

WEST GLENDAL E CHURCH

Large audiences greeted the Rev. C. A. Norcross of the West Glendale Methodist church on Sunday at both services. The talk for the morning service centered around the books of Joshua and Judges. The book of Joshua breathing of victory and triumph, while Judges, by way of contrast, portrayed defeat, failure and gave a gloomy aspect. The contrasts were vividly pictured and then likened to the different dispositions of our acquaintances, for every life is either a "Joshua" or "Judges." And always a testing method is used to ascertain the endurance. The method used to illustrate was of Gideon when he assumed command of the Israelites composed of 32,000 volunteers. By the various shifting processes used only 300 were deemed as reliable and worthy of service. To have a life in accord with the book of Joshua, one must be a volunteer; second, take a good look at the enemy and be ready for strong opposition; third, do what ought to be done and that in the name of Christ.

The evening topic was "Songs in the Night." This subject was cleverly handled and illustrated by showing when Paul and Silas were thrown into prison that they did both the ordinary and the extraordinary thing. The expected thing was that they prayed. But the unexpected thing was that they burst forth in song in the night and they were heard by the other prisoners who were gladened. This was applied to every day life, instances being cited showing where people who were despondent had been greatly benefited by a "Song in the Night."

KALEM PICTURE COMPANY

The superiority of the Glendale climate over that of Hollywood was demonstrated by the advent of the Hollywood comedy company to Glendale Sunday to get an atmosphere where they could produce pictures. The fog at Hollywood was so thick that no pictures could be taken, whereas at Glendale the skies were clear. The members of the company were emphatic in their admiration of the advantages of the Glendale climate.

Mr. Morton, director of the Railway company is working on the production of another episode of "The Hazards of Helen," entitled "The Trial Run." This involves an overturned auto, which lies on the railway track. The heroine by means of a clever run saves the situation. Mr. Horne is starting the sixteenth episode of "The Girl from Frisco." This is entitled "The Fight for Paradise Valley." It involves a great many interesting scenes in an irrigation construction camp. These are being taken in one of the most picturesque valleys of Southern California.

BIRD AND FLOWER CLUB

This coming Saturday being the last Saturday of the month, no outing trip will be taken. It is customary for members of the Bird and Flower club to spend the evening of the last Saturday of each month at the home of Mrs. Nanno Woods; but this month the usual evening party will be omitted, on account of the many Halloween festivities. Members reading this notice are asked to mention the fact to other members that no meeting will take place next Saturday, either afternoon or evening. The following Saturday, November 4, weather permitting, a trip will be taken to Eagle Rock park.

ODD FELLOWS TAKE NOTICE!

The regular meeting of the Lodge No. 388, I. O. O. F., will be held on Thursday evening in Odd Fellows hall. A large attendance is desired. The meeting will discuss plans for the entertainment programs throughout the coming season. At the close of business a pleasant social hour will be enjoyed.

CLUB MEETS

Fifteen members of the Foothill Athletic club met Monday evening at the home of Herman Voepf, 1207 Central avenue to pass a constitution and by-laws for the new organization and discuss plans for the future. Merle Eckles was elected president and Rolland Dimick secretary. Four new members were initiated.

It was reported that the new club rooms at the Pepper Tree Inn are being remodeled rapidly and will soon be in shape. Sweaters with large F. A. C. monograms were decided upon and ordered. The first big affair of this club will be a banquet next Tuesday evening in the club rooms. The members are anticipating a fine time at this "feed." It was also decided at Monday's meeting to hold a dance soon.

It would look as if our boasted melting pot had slipped a cog as in reading the reports of misdemeanors and crime from petty to capital the names are not of a nature to be associated with very many centuries of life in America, but the rather so foreign as to suggest recent arrivals and the need of straightening out. Put the melting pot into greater activity.

WORK ON DAVIS FARM

Will Richardson, son of Mrs. Ella W. Richardson, 805 South Central avenue, recently decided to take a course in agriculture at the University of California farm at Davis, Yolo county. This is one of the most successful educational enterprises conducted under the fostering wings of the state. Competent agriculturalists and horticulturalists are turned out every year from this institution. They become centers of beneficial influence wherever they go.

Writing to his mother, young Richardson says:

"This school is connected with the University of California and this is the branch where the students get all their experience with animals, tractors, soil, and the like. There is a tract of 788 acres planted out to thousands of different things.

"We students have the best of everything. There is an abundance of grapes and figs of every variety. The professors are from the University of California. They all have good salaries and everything about the farm is on the most liberal scale. Next year it is expected that the appropriations will be larger. The state realizes that it is getting good value in the practical teaching given here.

"There are many farmers in the classes I am attending. Others are studying agriculture with the expectation of making their livelihood out of the ground. Besides students of all ages and experience we have men of influence and knowledge such as Senator Leavitt. These people are looking out for the welfare of the students who will come here in the next few years.

"This week the high school boys from every part of the state visited the farm. Those were the boys who had won merits for having grown vegetables—potatoes, corn, and the like. There were 300 here in all and out of those 300, twenty-five have won the privilege of traveling all over the east for two months visiting different agriculture clubs and studying agriculture methods.

"Personally I am profiting largely by the teaching and practical work of the school. When I shall have finished this course I will be quite an adept in soils, the proper kind of fertilizer to use, rotation of crops, seeds, and the like.

"However, that you may not think that all is work and that there is no play here I may tell you that last Friday we had our 'pajamarine.' On that august occasion every fellow dressed at 7:30 in pajamas, over his ordinary clothes, just as they did at Berkeley, the evening before. Headed by the band we went to the down town of Davis where some notable orations were delivered to the great interest of the townsfolk. Then we paraded through the town and finally back to the school grounds. There in the big pavilion we had a rally for the football team. The game held next day was a great contest. The Farm team played the U. of C. Freshmen and when the final whistle blew the score stood 6 to 6.

"It may interest you to know that the school farm breeds prize cattle and that at the recent state fair at Sacramento the university farm livestock won twenty-three first prizes, six championships and three grand championships, ten second prizes, five third prizes and one fourth. The tax payers of California may rest assured that the farm is making the best possible use of the appropriations given it."

PUBLIC PARKS AND PLAY GROUNDS

An intensely interesting free stereopticon lecture on Public Parks and Playgrounds will be delivered in Glendale on Thursday evening of next week by the well known Professor J. W. Gregg of the University of California. Professor Gregg comes specially from Berkeley to deliver his message to the people of Glendale, and it is believed that a crowded house will repay his efforts. Educators everywhere are becoming alive to the importance of playground work—playgrounds not only for children but for adults. For the grownup people require to exercise their muscles and to play as much if not more than do children. Combined with the playground movement is the municipal auditorium idea, without which a playground but half fulfills its mission. Manager Watson gave in yesterday's issue of The Evening News a glowing account of the municipal auditorium just opened in Visalia containing an auditorium capable of holding 3000 and many other smaller halls and rooms, erected for the use of public, civic and social organizations.

Shall Glendale fall behind Visalia? Many problems center around the park question. The citizens of Glendale are vitally interested in all these civic problems; the solution affects every man, woman and child. They are questions which come to the very threshold of our home and they cannot be ignored. Professor J. W. Gregg places his time, abilities and experience at the disposal of the people. This wonderful lecture is free to all. Let us have a crowded auditorium on Thursday, November 2, at the High school, beginning at 8 o'clock sharp. Members of the Garden society, under whose auspices this lecture will be given are asked as a special favor by the president to turn out en masse, to talk about it beforehand to their friends and neighbors, and each man and woman individually to do his or her level best to insure a huge success on that night. NANNO WOODS.

TROPICO TRUSTEES

The trustees of the city of Tropico met in regular session Tuesday evening at 7:30 with President Peters in the chair. Trustees Alspach, Henry and Seal present, Boyce absent. Officers Coleman, Shaw, Wattles, Mabry and Gould, were also present. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved after a few corrections were made.

A petition was received from the residents on Boynton street, asking that certain lots be cleaned of unsightly sunflower stalks. The petition was signed by W. E. McCullough, Mrs. Annie Crist, Mrs. C. W. Smith, H. F. Lane, Mrs. M. Cleeve and Mrs. H. Heide. The petition was ordered filed.

A communication was received from J. W. Reagan, accompanied by a map showing the proposed flood control work to be done in Tropico to take care of the flood waters from Sycamore Canyon, and asking that the city trustees and engineer look over the proposed work and if thought advisable, suggest such alterations as they might deem necessary and he also asked the cooperation of the board in securing the necessary right of way. The city engineer was instructed to look over the situation and prepare an answer to Mr. Reagan's letter and present it to the board on its next meeting night.

A communication was received from the state compensation bureau asking for further information in regard to the W. E. Jones claim. The clerk was instructed to answer the same and give what information was at hand.

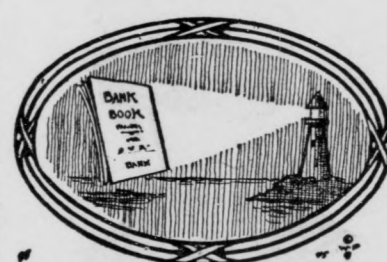

Written applications were received from H. F. Howard, Charles H. Lewis and F. E. Boynton asking for permits to operate taxicabs in the city of Tropico. The permits were granted.

The city attorney presented an ordinance regulating the digging of cesspools, eliminating the cesspool diggers license and fixing a fee of $1 for each permit to dig a cesspool. The city attorney reported that he had discovered that the city owned certain bonds on the Young property on Columbus avenue and asked the board if they would rather foreclose on the bond or proceed with the condemnation proceedings. After considerable discussion by the board it was decided to proceed with the condemnation suit.

The city attorney also reported that he had an interview with Mrs. Larson's attorney in regard to the appeal which Mrs. Larson had filed with the board. Mrs. Larson's proposal is that the city of Tropico pay her $550 and reduce the assessment on certain property on Moore avenue from $360 to $200. The matter was laid over until next meeting night and in the meantime the city attorney was requested to confer with the contractor and the holders of the assessment bonds and see if they were willing to stand part of the loss.

The president of the board and Trustee Henry reported that they had investigated the conditions at the junction of Central Avenue and San Fernando road and had employed Peter L. Ferry to make the necessary repairs, the charge to be $15 per day for labor and machinery used.

The finance committee refused to O. K. the claims filed and held them up for further investigation. Adjournment.

A man slightly under the influence strolled in to the art gallery, wandered about aimlessly for a while and stationed himself in front of a painting of several mermaids half submerged in water. He regarded this picture intently for perhaps a half hour. Then he walked over to an attendant and said:
"Shay, ole fellow, what time does tide go out, anyway?"

RED CROSS BRANCH

The Glendale branch of the British Red Cross society met Monday afternoon as usual in the St. Mark's Guild room. Mrs. Helen I. Campbell and Mrs. England were hostesses. There was a fair attendance and the ladies did a great deal of work on the hospital suits intended for the wounded in the field and other hospitals. Glendale will be known in many a home across the ocean on account of a happy thought of the ladies of the local Red Cross who have decided to distinguish their hospital suits from all others by sewing in the pockets lavender sachets. The suits are carefully washed and laundered before being dispatched to their destination.
